Name	Donatello	Breed	Knabstrupper (purebred)
Age / Height	7 years · 165 cm (16.1 hh)	Coat	Rare FewSpot Leopard
Brand	INVICTA — Foundation Stallion	Based	Portugal

Donatello is a purebred Knabstrupper stallion with a rare FewSpot leopard coat. Based in Portugal, he is beginning his sporting career alongside his role as a breeding stallion. He is licensed by the Anglo European Studbook (AES), a member of the World Breeding Federation of Sport Horses (WBFSH), making him eligible for most WBFSH member studbooks.

2 GENETICS — WHAT MAKES HIM UNIQUE

Donatello carries a double homozygous genetic combination — LP/LP and PATN1/PATN1 — the rarest and most desirable genetic profile within the leopard complex:

— LP (Leopard Complex gene): responsible for spotted patterning.

— PATN1 (Pattern gene): controls the extent and distribution of spots.

Being homozygous for both means Donatello passes these genes to 100% of his offspring, regardless of the mare's genetics.

> HEADLINE STATISTIC
> Every single one of his 24 offspring born to date has displayed a spotted coat pattern.

3 BLOODLINE & ASCENT (PEDIGREE)

The pedigree blends Danish Knabstrupper colour genetics — traced through the respected Conetti Lynghøj line on the dam's side — with Oldenburg and Warmblood sport horse performance genetics (Lapis Lazuli, Aleksander, Dolomit) appearing on both sides.
